TERRIBLE LOSS OF LIFE.

FIRE DESTROYS ONE OF THE OLDEST THEATERS IN PARIS.

Two Thousand People in the Building at the Time—The Panic Stricken Audience Jump From the Windows Only to Meet Death—Number of Deaths Unknown.

PARIS, May 27.—The Opera Comique, the oldest and best known theater in Paris, was totally destroyed by fire last night. Two thousand people were in the house witnessing a performance of "Mignon." Filena was singing the waltz song in front of the cottage when a drop curtain ignited from a row of gas jets and a shower of sparks fell about her. M. Taskin, who sang Lathario, stepped to the front and begged the people to be quiet. The courage of the man, standing amid the blazing embers falling about him, was magnificent, but his judgment was faulty and fatal to the lives of many persons.

The audience remained in their seats fully two precious minutes, reassured by the actor's words. Then, however, the occupants of the stalls and the pit, who perceived the magnitude of the flames, quietly but rapidly left the house, and were safe before the people in the galleries moved. By this time the house was full of smoke, and as the fire suddenly burst through the curtain and became visible the crowd was seized with panic and poured into the entrances, a frantic, struggling mass of animals. A cold rain was pouring down, but luckily not a breath of wind was stirring.

Once on the street all were safe, but on the staircases, in the jam, the scene was indescribably horrible, big men tramping pretty women to death, actresses and chorus girls rushing from the stage exits shrieking and half dressed, and seeking flight by the public stairways only to be caught up in the jam and either carried out or trampled under foot by the terror-stricken mass. It was frightfully hot in the passage way, and the air was filled with smoke, so that many who could have withstood the pressure of the crowd dropped exhausted by the heat, or suffocated by the smoke.

At least 100,000 people had assembled and blocked all the streets leading to the theater. A battalion of the Thirty-first regiment kept back the crowd while the firemen, in brazen helmets, carried the wounded to a police station in the Rue Richelieu, whence military ambulances conveyed them home. In the police station there were eleven dead bodies in a row. The total number of dead is computed at seventeen. Several of these are chorus girls, one, Mme. Tallier, an actress, four were firemen, and the others were of the audience. Over one hundred were injured, some of whom will die. Six stout firemen made a gallant charge, axes in hand, through the flames and rescued an iron safe containing valuable receipts and papers.

Among those present at the opera were many Americans, but none of them, fortunately, were injured so far as known. W. J. Ayres, of New York, had a lucky escape. He, with his wife and daughter and Mr. Rutter, occupied the third box from the stage on the left side, and was greatly disappointed at being compelled to take this box, which was the only one obtainable, but it turned out to be a lucky purchase, as it enabled them to get out before the grand rush came. Only a fortnight ago M. Steenacker, called attention in the chamber of deputies to the dangerous condition of the opera Comique. Figaro also called attention to the same thing.

The scenes at the ruins this morning are most distressing and heartrending. A strong military cordon encompasses the burned structure. Outside the cordon are crowds of excited people wringing their hands and crying along the names of missing friends or relatives. Many bodies of the ballet dancers have already been taken out. Their remains were found lying in heaps. The firemen assert that a number of bodies are lying in the upper galleries. The deaths, it is now stated, will greatly exceed the previous estimates.

Birmingham's Boom.
BIRMINGHAM, Ala., May 27.—The Alabama State Press association began its annual meeting here with a large attendance. Its presence has been made the occasion by the local committee of the chamber of commerce, and press for inviting representatives of the metropolitan press of the country to come and look at, or rather listen to, the boom (listening being better metaphor), as well as hear the actual fact. There have been several arrivals from without the state, including press men from Ohio, Massachusetts, Georgia, Mississippi and Tennessee. They were taken a beautiful evening ride over a six and a half mile dummy belt railway, which runs around the town among the mountains. The boom is to be still further boomed by a banquet to-morrow evening, and a reception and ball Friday night, and visits to coal mines, furnaces and other industries, that have increased the population from 3,000 to 45,000 in 1887.

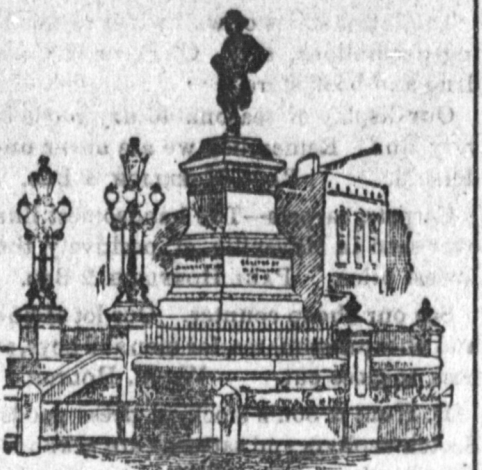

Devastative Storm.
SAN ANGELO, Tex., May 27.—A disastrous storm visited this place last night, damaging business property and suburban residences to the extent of over $30,000. The wind blew with the velocity of a tornado, and the rain fell in blinding sheets. No lives were lost, and no serious injuries have thus far been reported. The court house cupola was blown down and the east wing badly damaged. All the churches in the town were damaged, and over a dozen dwellings were unroofed and partly demolished.

Arrested for Swindling.
DALLAS, Tex., May 27.—W. D. Lewis, late president of the Colorado Cattle association, has been arrested at San Angelo, on a charge of swindling the Exchange bank, of this city, out of $6,500. It is alleged that he borrowed $10,000, giving the bank as security, a trust deed of 2,000 head of cattle branded 172, and that a diligent search has brought to light only 518 head of cattle bearing that brand.

REMEMBERING HIS BENEFACTOR.

Mr. Findly's Monument to the Memory of General Steedman Unveiled.

GEN. STEEDMAN'S MONUMENT.
TOLEDO, O., May 27.—Two score years ago James B. Steedman was president of the state board of public works, and gave William J. Findly, then a friendless Irish lad, a position paying $550 a year. James Steedman entered the war and became a great general and hero of the memorable day at Chickamauga. William J. Findly, from a poor lad became one of the wealthiest men of Toledo. Both are now dead, but before he died Mr. Findly made provision to erect a monument to the benefactor of his boyhood. That monument was unveiled to-day. It stands in the center of the V-shaped park where Oak street crosses the intersection of St. Clair and Summit streets.

The memorial to Gen. Steedman consists of a heroic statue of the dead man on a marble pedestal, the whole rising on a huge granite base. A beautiful railing surrounds the elevation upon which the monument stands and granite stairs lead up to the enclosure between two artistically finished lamp-posts, each bearing a cluster of globes. The statue faces Summit and St. Clair streets. On the sides of the base are chiseled, besides the usual inscriptions, the names of the battles in which Steedman distinguished himself, and the name of the donor.

Gen. James B. Steedman was born in Northumberland county, Pennsylvania, July 30, 1817. In early life he was thrown upon his own resources. He learned the trade of a printer, and became afterwards a contractor on the public works of Ohio, to which state he early removed. He was twice a member of the legislature, and resigned as president of the state board of public works in 1857 to become printer of the National house of representatives. He entered the war as colonel of the Eleventh Ohio, and by his bravery and heroism won the commission of major general of volunteers at the battle of Chickamauga. After the war he returned to Ohio, and the last public position held by him was chief of police of the city of Toledo.

The Canadian Pacific Condemned.
WINNIPEG, Man., May 27.—The largest and most enthusiastic mass meeting ever held here, gathered in Trinity hall last night, to protest against a continuance of the Canadian Pacific monopoly in Manitoba and the northwest territories. The mayors of many towns throughout the province were present. It was declared that the Canadian Pacific charges four times as much for carrying wheat from Winnipeg to Port Arthur, as American lines charge from St. Paul to Chicago. The resolutions indorse the local government in deciding to build a road to the boundary and scarily Sir George Stephens, president of the Canadian Pacific.

It Was Suicide.
LOUISVILLE, May 27.—It now appears that Mrs. John Lawless, mention of whose mysterious death was made yesterday, committed suicide, but by the consent of her husband, who purchased the poison, and lying on his bed witnessed the deed. She confessed to him, it is said, that she had been intimate with a colored barber and asked his forgiveness, which was refused. Her little daughter says her mother told her she was going to kill herself. Mr. Lawless is in jail and refuses to talk.

WASHINGTON DISPATCHES

THE TOLEDO CADETS DRILLING AT THE NATIONAL DRILL.

An Impression Prevailing That They Will Secure the First Prize—The Presidential Party Leave for the Adirondack Mountains—Other National News.

WASHINGTON, May 27.—The enormous grand stands within the National drill enclosure, were packed this morning. The principal feature was the drilling of the Toledo Cadets, and a superb exhibition of the manual at arms it proved to be. The movements required of this company were more difficult and complex than any thus far shown in the drill. Vociferous applause greeted their every action, and the cheering at times was so great that the judges were forced to order silence so that the captains' commands could be heard by the cadets. The impression is universal that the first prize will go to Toledo.

Newspaper Correspondent Dead.
WASHINGTON, May 27.—Homer J. Ramsdell, one of the best known correspondents in Washington, died last night of an apopleptic stroke. In 1870, while on the staff of the New York Tribune, he was imprisoned for several weeks by order of the senate for publishing the treaty of Washington and refusing to reveal how it was obtained. In 1879 he left the Tribune and became the correspondent of the Philadelphia Times, which he represented here till July, 1881, when he was appointed recorder of wills for the District of Columbia. His appointment was the last official act of President Garfield, who signed his commission just before starting for the depot on the fatal 21 of July. Mr. Ramsdell was a native of Tioga county, Pennsylvania.

Cortez was in a boat and the Mexican was near the American shore. Cortez was arraigned for violating a law of Texas against carrying firearms. The Mexican consul demanded his release, as he was not an American soldier when he fired the shot. Justice Winslow released Cortez on a nominal bond, pending instructions from Washington. The Mexican consul will also lay the matter before his government. The affair has caused a good deal of excitement.

The report of the committee on restrictive legislation recommended the appropriation of $5,000 for the Michigan brewers, $5,000 for Texas and $3,000 for Tennessee, to fight the people who are trying to break up the trade. Adopted unanimously. The finance committee's report showed that at the last report of the association, the assets were $17,863, received during the year $11,933 from initiations, etc., received during the year from local associations $6,946. Mr. Clausen, of New York, read a letter from Richard Walruff, of Kansas, that he had been driven from his home for brewing beer. Several other similar letters were read. It was voted to make an extra assessment for the aid of such cases.

A resolution offered by Mr. Ernst, of Chicago, was adopted, that in view of the continuance of labor troubles they reaffirm their pledge made at St. Louis last year, that in case of trouble in any city they refrain from furnishing goods to any person in that city, except their own customers. The president read reports showing that for the year ended April 30, 1887, 23,541,425 barrels of beer were brewed in the United States, against 20,339,553 barrels in the previous year.

The following officers were elected for two years: President, William A. Miles, of New York; vice presidents, Henry Clausen, Jr., of New York, and Thos. J. Lefevre, of Chicago; treasurer, J. C. G. EX-GOVERNOR SPRAGUE.

He Will Not Permit the Bull Run Gun to Be Set Up in Public.
PROVIDENCE, R. I., May 27.—When the lately expired legislature resolved to drag from security and set up on the state house lawn two of Rhode Island's war relics familiarly known as the Gettysburg and Bull Run guns, there was little thought of the hot dissent and indignation that could be aroused in the bosom of the hermit war governor, William Sprague, at Canonchet. As regards the Bull Run relic, it was wholly out of personal friendship and as a personal compliment to the neglected war governor that the movement of the resolution pushed the matter.

The Bull Run gun is inscribed with the name of ex-Governor Sprague, and was identified with him in the part which he took in the first battle of the war, which participation was made famous at the time, alike by his reckless bravery and the sensational feature of the governor taking the field. The gun was placed by Governor Sprague in the custody of the marine corps of artillery, and now in a long and bitter letter he refuses to let the artillery turn it over to the state. The letter is verbose, confused in language, and bitter and denunciatory in tone, with a vein of grim satisfaction at the way its writer feels able to block things. As the first public communication that the war governor has taken occasion to send since he dropped out of public existence, the letter is notable and has created a sensation that is tempered with good humored pity for the poor recluse at Canonchet.

Bald Knobbers With Us Again.
OZARK, Mo., May 27.—Three of the nine supposed Bald Knobbers arrested last Friday charged with whipping John Swearingen, were tried in Ozark yesterday. The other six took change of venue. In the trial it developed that two Swearingen brothers and one Williams were barbarously beaten by the regulators, and three women were visited in the same neighborhood and warned to cease unlawful intimacy with certain proscribed male associates. The Bald Knobbers' defense was by shockingly filthy stories about the parties regulated. A verdict of guilty was returned and each were fined $100.

A Dastardly Outrage.

STRANGE, but true. The leader of the Union Labor party in Kentucky is a lawyer. But then he's not much of a leader, nor is he a great lawyer. His name is Logan A. Wood.

The Canadians are said to willin' to be annexed to the United States. Undoubtedly the question is becoming a more important one every year, and is receiving very serious consideration.

BROTHER KELLAR, of the Carlisle Mercury, says that "one of the mysteries of life is how a lawyer can be the head of a labor organization. The Mercury should get Lawyer Wood, of Covington, to explain.

We are told that Blaine and Sherman are to be brought into the State this year to help the Republicans out. That's all right, let 'em come. What does the invincible Democracy of Kentucky care for the statesmen from Ohio and Maine?

The Democrats of Harrison County are preparing to make things lively. They have organized a club, every member of which is pledged to work to bring out the full strength of the party in August. Let the Democrats of other counties follow suit.

The Democrats seem to know how to manage things in the Postoffice Department at Washington. The deficit for the current year, as estimated by Postmaster General Vilas, will not exceed $3,873,492, and this will be the smallest deficit for years.

The Courier-Journal says: "May the Lord send us only the right sort of emigrants. America has more Irishmen than Ireland. She may some day have more Germans than Germany, more Italians than Italy, more Scandinavians than Scandinavia."

S. F. WILLIAMS, an expert accountant of Cincinnati, has completed a thorough investigation of the books of the Farmers' National Bank of Cincinnati, and finds that Paul King was short $9,533 in his accounts as cashier at the time he suicide a few months ago. King's bondsmen are good, and the bank will lose nothing.

Total Abstinents and Moderate Drinkers.

If there were any doubt of the superior longevity of total abstinents from intoxicating liquors over those who indulge only moderately in stimulants, that doubt would seem to be eliminated by the recent report of the United Kingdom Temperance and the General Provident Institution, two insurance companies of England which have for the last twenty-five years classified their risks under the two headings of total abstinents and moderate drinkers. For a period running through twenty years it was found that, while the number of expected deaths under the actuaries' tables of mortality would have been 3,484, the actual deaths of total abstinents were only 2,408. On the other hand, while under the tables of expected deaths these companies would have paid losses on the lives of 5,430 moderate drinkers, they were called upon to pay on the lives of 5,284 of that class. In other words, while the ratio of deaths among moderate drinkers was 97 per cent. of the expected and average rate, the deaths among total abstinents were only 69 per cent. of the average rate. This shows that the total abstinents have at least 25 per cent. greater chances of living than the moderate tippler, and it also justifies these two companies in so dividing their risks that the dividends which the total abstinents receive will be in proportion to the death-rate of their class, and not in proportion to the common death-rate, the dividends received by the total abstinents being about 50 per cent. higher than those secured by the moderate drinkers. It should be borne in mind that all risks taken by these companies, whether total abstinents or moderate drinkers, are upon lives which promise to extend beyond the average duration of human existence; hence the danger associated with even moderate indulgence is the more apparent in the figures given above. No company cares to insure the life of a drunkard, or a man diseased; the time will yet come when the moderate drinker will be placed where he belongs, among the extra-hazardous risks.

A Valuable Sock Stolen.

RUSHVILLE, Ind., May 27.—A. C. Homer, a farmer east of here, yesterday sold his farm, receiving $1,000 cash. Last night Farmer Homer put the money in a sock for safe keeping, and deposited it under his pillow. At midnight he was awakened by some one tugging at the impromptu bank, and he made a grab at the intruder, seizing his wrist, but it slipped out of his grasp, and the burglar fled through the window, taking the money.

The delegates will leave for home to-morrow.

Four Trains in One Wreck.

WINFIELD, Kan., May 27.—Yesterday morning two Santa Fe trains collided near Wichita, and before they could get flagmen out two extras, one from each direction, piled into the wreck, mixing things up in great shape. The details regarding the accident are meager. It is rumored that several persons were more or less injured. The cause of the accident is unknown, though the train dispatcher will probably be charged with it.

The Verdict Unanimous.

W. D. Suit, Druggist, Bippus, Ind., testifies: "I can recommend Electric Bitters as the very best remedy. Every bottle sold has given relief in every case. One man took six bottles and was cured of rheumatism of ten years' standing." Abraham Hare, druggist, Bellville, Ohio, affirms: "The best selling medicine I have ever handled in my twenty years' experience is Electric Bitters." Thousands of others have added their testimony, so that the verdict is unanimous that Electric Bitters do cure all diseases of the liver, kidneys or blood. Only half a dollar a bottle at J. C. Great excitement has been caused in the vicinity of Paris, Tex., by the remarkable recovery of Mr. J. E. Finding relief, he bought a large bottle and a box of Dr. King's New Life Pills; by the time he had taken two boxes of pills and two bottles of the Discovery, he was well and had gained in flesh thirty-six pounds. CORN EXCHANGE BANK,
FARMERS' LOAN AND TRUST CO.

This well-known and prosperous company, organized under the laws of the State of New York, having secured a large and rapidly increasing membership, furnishes each member with guaranteed life insurance at cost, has resolved to adopt a new and special feature that has not yet been adopted by any Life Insurance Company in this country. This feature consists of classifying in one section all members who are from the use of intoxicating beverages. In England there are several Life Insurance Companies that make a specialty of insuring the lives of total abstinents, and their experience demonstrates the fact that among Total Abstinents than it is among any other class of persons insured. The experience of the United Kingdom Temperance and General Provident Institution of England, extending over a period of forty-five years, shows

AN ADVANTAGE IN FAVOR OF TOTAL ABSTAINERS OF 33 PER CENT.

In the rate of mortality. Other companies have experienced similar results. The NATIONAL BENEFIT SOCIETY has determined to give to the total abstinents of this country an opportunity to secure to themselves the full benefits of the total abstinence principles, so far as they affect the matter of Life Insurance. They have therefore formed a into which all the total abstinents will be grouped. All accounts will be kept distinct from the general business of the Company, and the members in the temperance section will be assessed to pay only the losses that occur in that section. By this arrangement the total abstinents have the full benefit of the lesser rate of mortality experienced among the temperance men; this being, as shown by experience, one-third less than it is among the average persons insured.

THE COST OF INSURANCE WILL BE ONE-THIRD LESS, and thus a practical illustration is given of the immense advantages accruing to those who lead a strictly temperate life.

This company also does a

General Life Insurance

business in addition to this temperance section. my24dlw-137w

CITY TAXES.

Levy Made By City Council is Less Than That of Last Year—Other Business Done.

An adjourned meeting of the City Council was held last evening. Chairman Pfister presided, and the members were all present with one exception.

The work on Fourth street, near Mrs. Curtis', was reported completed, and the matter was stricken from the minutes.

The sewer at the junction of Fourth street and Lexington pike was also reported completed.

A permit was granted Mrs. William Daugherty to build a frame residence on Fifth street, between Limestone and Plum.

The Committee on Fire Department reported that the contract to supply additional hose, &c., for Amazon Fire Company be let to the lowest and best bidder, according to the following specifications: "Three hundred feet of good, rubber hose, two and one-half inches, in fifty feet sections, with coupling complete, hose to be four-ply, with five-ply capped ends, hose to be warranted to last five years without bursting; and also two rubber play pipes with revolving leather handles, with one three-quarter inch nozzle, play-pipes to fit the two and one-half-inch hose, said hose and play-pipes to be delivered in the city of Maysville, Ky." Sealed proposals according to above specifications will be received by said committee and reported at July meeting of Council.

An amendment to the work-house ordinance was offered, read and laid over until next meeting. It provides that "no work materials or supplies of any kind or description for the city work-house, or the prisoners confined therein, for which the city may be properly chargeable, shall be contracted for or purchased except by the order and direction of the Committee on Police." It also provides that "said committee shall measure all rock furnished said work-house, and shall certify the correctness of all claims against the city arising out of and pertaining to said institution before the Committee on Claims and Accounts shall approve the same."

Complaints against the city assessment were now heard. Mr. and Mrs. Hiram Curtis thought the assessment of one piece of their property was too high, but no change was made.

Mr. Stockton said Charles Pfister thought the assessment of his property on Fleming pike was too high, when compared with that of other property in the same neighborhood, and on motion the Assessor was requested to make the following changes: Charles Pfister's reduced from $1,500 to $1,200; the William Bertram property raised from $900 to $1,200.

The Assessor was also requested to raise the assessment of Mr. Sam. Hall's residence on Forest avenue from $2,250 to $2,500, and that of Dr. John T. Fleming on property at mouth of Limestone Creek from $1,000 to 2,000.

These were all the changes made, and on motion the books were received and made the assessment for this year.

The Committee on Ways and Means reported that it had decided to make the levy 15 cents on the $100 less than that of last year, and reported the following levy ordinance which was adopted:

Be it ordained by the Board of Councilmen of the City of Maysville, That a tax of 75 cents on each $100 worth of taxable property in the city of Maysville be, and the same is hereby, levied for revenue and general purposes, including the payment of maturing old bonds of the city for the year 1887, and the Collector and Treasurer is authorized to collect the same and account for it according to law.

Be it further ordained, That a tax of 10 cents on each $100 worth of taxable property in the city of Maysville be, and the same is hereby, levied for school purposes for the year 1887, to be collected and accounted for by the Collector and Treasurer and Marshal according to law.

Be it further ordained, That a tax of 25 cents on each $100 worth of taxable property in the city of Maysville be, and the same is hereby, levied for the year 1887, for the purpose of paying the interest on outstanding bonds, to be collected and accounted for by the Collector and Treasurer and Marshal according to law.

Be it further ordained, That a poll tax of $1.00 on each male inhabitant of the city of Maysville, over twenty-one years of age, be and the same is hereby levied for the year 1887, to be collected and accounted for according to law.

It was ordered that said ordinance be published three times in each of the city papers.

Omar Dodson was granted a permit to change a stable on alley between Market and Limestone into a tenement house.

The depot question is agitating the people of Greenup as well as the citizens of Maysville. The Gazette, of that place, says: "East Greenup will get the freight and general passenger depot on the M. and B. S. Railroad. It is claimed by some that this will carry the business of Greenup to that end of the town."

RUMORED ILLNESS

Of Hon. W. H. Wadsworth—The Reports Greatly Exaggerated.

Hon. W. H. Wadsworth has been at St. Paul, Minn., for several days past engaged as one of the counsel in the famous Nelson will case involving an estate of about $200,000 in which Mrs. John M. Stockton, is interested. A report was current on the streets this morning that he had been stricken with heart disease yesterday and was seriously ill. The report was soon greatly exaggerated, of course, and it was next rumored that death had resulted. THE BULLETIN's telegraphic reports to-day contained the following:

MINNEAPOLIS, MINN., May 26.—Congressman Wadsworth, of Kentucky, while making an argument in the Nelson will case here this morning, was taken with a stoppage of the heart, narrowly escaping death. He will not continue in the case.

Mr. Wadsworth telegraphed to his family yesterday afternoon that he was "well, all reports to the contrary notwithstanding." He added that he would leave for home last evening.

TROUBLE IN THE CAMP.

One Convict Killed and Two Others and State Inspector Marshall Seriously Wounded.

Comar's Camp, opposite New Richmond, on the Maysville and Big Sandy Railroad, was the scene of a desperate attempt by three convicts to kill State Inspector Marshall. Marshall has had charge of some of the convicts at work on the railroad for some time, and has gained the enmity, it seems, of three of them.

They planned to put him out of the way, and attempted yesterday morning to carry it into effect. Two of them got between the boss and the guard, who was a short distance away, and at a signal, the other convict suddenly struck Marshall a severe blow on the head with a pick. The guard was armed with a double barreled shot gun loaded with buck shot. The first barrel snapped, but the other charge was fired, killing one convict and seriously wounding two others, one of them fatally. Marshall has been insensible ever since, and his physician says he will die.

CALLED TO LOUISVILLE.

A Maysville Minister Wanted by the First Christian Church of the Falls City.

Elder E. L. Powell, pastor of the Christian Church of this city, has been called to succeed Dr. A. I. Hobbs as pastor of the First Christian Church of Louisville. Dr. Hobbs tendered his resignation last Sunday, and at the regular prayer meeting Wednesday night the resignation was accepted. Elder E. L. Powell was then nominated and chosen as Dr. Hobbs' successor.

Mr. Powell conducted a revival in the Walnut Street Christian Church of that place the past winter, and his eloquent and earnest preaching created a deep impression, and won him many warm friends. The opinion here is that he will decline the call, and remain in this city. He and his bride are expected home next week from Norfolk, Va., where they are spending their honeymoon.

Unveiling of Soldiers' Monument.

The soldiers' monument now being put up at the cemetery will be unveiled on the 4th of next July. The date was fixed upon by the monument committee at a meeting Wednesday night.

All the secret and benevolent orders of this city, the county and city officers, fire companies of Maysville and Chester, all Posts of the G. A. R. and military organizations in Portsmouth, O., Lewis County, Ky., Brown and Adams counties, O., Cincinnati, O., Covington, Newport and Dayton and Lexington, Ky., and all honorably discharged Union soldiers will also be invited to be present and participate in the parade and services of that day.

Committees were selected as follows: General Invitations and Printing—Captain Jacob Miller, John H. Archdeacon and Dr. G. M. Williams.

City Decorations—Captain James Reelin, John Helser and Captain M. C. Hutchins.

Refreshments—George M. Clinger, Samuel P. Bridges, George N. Crawford, James S. Elise and William B. Dawson.

ECHOES FROM THE CABLE.

A SUMMARY OF IMPORTANT NEWS FROM ABROAD.

England's Lord High Executioner Threatens to Strike—General Boulanger to Be in the New French Ministry or There Will Be No Ministry at All—Notes.

LONDON, May 27.—England's lord high executioner, more generally known as the public hangman, has a grievance which he is forcing upon the attention of the secretary of state for home affairs, and he has actually gone so far as to threaten to strike unless prompt attention is given to his case. Under the old regulation in force at Newgate prison, "Jack Ketch," as the hangman has been nicknamed for a couple of centuries, received a salary of $5 per week from the corporation in addition to a fee of $50 for each swinging at which he officiated.

Since the passage of the new prisons act, however, the hangman's perquisites in the shape of permanent retainers have been abolished, and, as a matter of fact, there is now no authority which has any control over him, although there is a general understanding that he has a monopoly of the business of ushering criminals into the great beyond. But the executioner has conceived the idea that his position should be officially recognized by the home office, and so he has made a formal demand that the name "John Berry" be placed upon the list of the civil servants of the crown.

When it is remembered that this list includes some hundreds of earls, and dukes, cabinet ministers, a poet laureate, and other distinguished people, too numerous to mention, the shock which the audacious demand has created in aristocratic society can be understood. Berry, however, is in real earnest, and as there are half a dozen murderers to be hung in different sections of the country during the next six weeks, and nobody to hang them unless Berry is placated, the officials at the home office are in a quandary.

Boulanger to Be in the Cabinet.

PARIS, May 27.—M. Floquet has declined to form a new ministry, owing to M. Bresson's refusal to accept the portfolio of foreign affairs. When Gen. Boulanger learned that the opportunist refused to support M. Floquet because they objected to him personally. He went to see the president of the chamber of deputies and offered to retire. He said he was ready to leave the ministry of war if such action could facilitate the forming of a new cabinet.

M. Floquet's reply was: "You shall be in the new ministry, or else there shall be no ministry."

At a late hour there were again rumors of forming a De Freycinet cabinet. In the meantime public opinion is becoming impatient, and holds M. Grevy responsible, in a great measure, for the existing muddle.

Desperate Battles.

LONDON, May 27.—The Indian government is informed that the ameer's troops have recently fought a succession of desperate battles with the insurgents, near Caladhar, most of which resulted in favor of the ameer. The ameer has notified the Indian government that Russian soldiers are occupying portions of the frontier not included within the line of demarcation hitherto observed.

The Crown Prince Better.

Striking Troubles.

Stanley is now on his way to accomplish, has written a letter which has found its way to Constantinople, stating that he has discovered a river affluent to the Albert Nyanza lake, flowing from the south.

Only a Matter of Time.
